Can't be proud of this

On Thursday in Kelowna 3,297 persons were entitled to exercise their franchise in the municipal elections. Of these only 634 did so.

Only a little over 19% voted.
Less than one in five.

True, there was only one issue to be decided. It was only a matter of which of two men should represent the city on the board of school district 23. A light poll was to be expected.

But, surely, a 19% vote cannot be justified.

It simply means that four out of five of the people who pay school taxes here are not interested enough in how the schools are run to take five minutes to vote for whom of two men they think should represent the city.

Less than one in five voted.

What were the other four doing? Where were they?

Granted, perhaps, one in five found it impossible, difficult or inconvenient to get to the polling booth. But what of the remaining three?

In our opinion, three ratepayers out of every five in this city on Thursday were negligent in their civic duty. They were casual, indifferent, slothful.

One out of five voted; another one, perhaps, simply could not. The other three—well, it is such as they who make one wonder whether democracy is all it is supposed to be and whether it is worth fighting for.

A job well done

The public as a body is generally a little remiss in expressing its appreciation of the service one of its members gives the community. Frequently a man will give of his best in time and ability for a long number of years and then will be allowed to pass from the public picture without a public "thank you" of any type. This may be because members of the public body as individuals, when they stop to give the matter any consideration, do not recognize the service given by these men and women in public service, but as a collective body, they have no way of expressing that appreciation.

This newspaper from time to time endeavors to step into this breach and to pay tribute to that person who, in its estimation has made a worthwhile contribution to the community and who has retired. In this connection, this newspaper feels that the passing of G. Hume from the public service field should not be permitted to occur without comment. Mr. Hume in Glenmore and in Kelowna has been active in school board affairs for twenty-seven years and, since 1947 has been chairman of the board of District 23, with the exception of one year. This, indeed, is no mean record. It represents nearly three decades of public service. It represents hours and hours of time; inconvenience; irritation; problems; headaches. The only satisfaction was in the solutions found, the progress made, and the only thanks was the personal knowledge that as the community grew and advanced, some personal contribution assisted in that advancement.

It may be that at some future date, Mr. Hume will again see service on the school board. However, working on the assumption that this is unlikely, due to his advancing age, this newspaper is happy now to pay tribute to his long record of service. Our viewpoint and his have not always been the same, but we have never questioned his sincerity and his desire to do his best in the public interest. We believe that most citizens will join with us when we say to Mr. Hume "Yours was a job well done."

Well done, Aquatic!

The annual meeting of the Kelowna Aquatic Association was held a few days ago and heard a number of reports, most of which were of a most satisfactory nature. Of these, of course, the one which received the most attention was the treasurer's which reported that last year a profit of some $7,500 was shown and that the indebtedness of the organization had been cleared off.

The report is the more interesting when it is placed beside the general trend of regattas, "days," festivals and stampedes and such things in the province. Kamloops stampede had to fold; Vernon Days had to be drastically reorganized and operated last year on a new theme and on a reduced scale; the Penticon Peach Festival last year operated with a $1,200 loss. And so it goes.

Only the Kelowna Aquatic and its Regatta seems to go on to justify the "bigger and better" publicity claim.

There must be a reason for this, of course. Several of them. There is, of course, the fundamental reason that the program is unique and pleasing; the setting is ideal. Then, too, there is the fact that the whole community—or most of it, at least—is "behind" the show and works for it.

But, beyond these things, it is necessary to have interested and careful management; attention to small details; good public relations and a host of other things which can be grouped in one phrase—capable and enthusiastic directors.

While two divisions or sections are concerned, the summer-long Aquatic direction and the Regatta direction—in fact they cannot be separated; they are part and parcel of the one thing and separated only for operational efficiency and convenience. With such an excellent year behind them, to Dr. Mel Butler, Aquatic president, and R. F. Parkinson, Regatta director, and their hard-working committee men, this community owes a vote of thanks. Mayor Ladd, recognizing this, has seized the opportunity of one or two semi-public functions to comment. Once he phrased it "They had faith in the community and the Regatta and they are deserving of the thanks of the people of this city." There are few residents of Kelowna, indeed, who will take any exception to the Mayor's words. For our part, we heartily echo them.

Kelowna Gyro presents pins

Five new members of the Vernon Gyro Club received their pins and certificates at the first semi-annual installation night last Tuesday. Kelowna Gyro Club past president W. V. (Babe) Nicholson made the presentations.

Others attending from Kelowna besides Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Simpson. The latter, vice-president of the Kelowna Gyro, addressed the new members following the presentation.

"Keep the pot boiling"

"Keep the pot boiling" is a time-honored phrase around Christmas. And were it not for the Salvation Army, many needy families in Kelowna and district would not be able to enjoy Christmas dinner.

But in order to provide Christmas hampers and supply clothing to destitute families, the Salvation Army must depend upon public support.

The "Army" pot will be placed in front of the Post Office next Friday, and volunteer workers will be on duty until Christmas Eve.

Ten-year-old Joan McIntosh, who is now recovering in the Kelowna General Hospital following a brutal beating by an unknown assailant over two weeks ago, was the first donor when this picture was taken last year. Major Rose Weir is shown in the picture with Joan.

Men make survey to determine potential consumption of natural gas in Orchard City

A complete survey of Kelowna and district was undertaken last week to determine whether or not it would be economically advisable to pipe natural gas to the Orchard City.

Two officials connected with the Inland Natural Gas Company, S. A. Milner and Cecil Smith conferred with Mayor J. F. Ladd, City Engineer George Meckling and D. E. Oliver for three days and made a first-hand inspection of potential consumption in this area. It is understood the two men made a similar inspection of Vernon, Kamloops and Penticon.

It is understood the survey was requested by the provincial government. Present plans call for servicing the cities of Kamloops and Penticon with natural gas after a pipeline has been constructed. A spur would run off from the main line to service Kamloops, while the Penticon spur would come up from Keremeos. Tentative plans call for running the line from Kamloops, down through Merritt and then across the border to Spokane.

POTENTIAL CONSUMPTION
According to Mr. Oliver, who has taken an active interest in the construction of a gas pipeline to Kelowna, Mr. Smith was quite impressed with the potential consumption in this area. Mr. Smith visited the industrial area and rural points, while Mr. Milner studied city maps. (Turn to Page 6, Story 1)

Legion Yule party set for Saturday

The auditorium of the Canadian Legion will be a busy place this week.
On Tuesday (tomorrow) night, the regular monthly meeting of ex-servicemen will take place. A full attendance is requested, as the Legion plans to start a drive to assist the family of the late J. R. (Jack) Robertson.

Next Friday, the Legion is sponsoring a turkey and chicken bingo in the Legion Hall at 8:00 p.m. while the following day the annual Christmas tree party for children of veterans will take place at 2:00 o'clock.

ACTIVE ORGANIZATION

Junior Rod and Gun Club selling Christmas trees to raise money for construction of club house

In order to raise money for local activities the Kelowna and District Junior Rod and Gun Club is selling Christmas trees for the third year in succession. These trees may be ordered now or later, and will be on display December 19 in the vacant lot beside the Board of Trade Building.

The Kelowna and District Junior Rod and Gun Club has done a great deal to assist in the conservation of wild life, and to foster ideals of sportsmanship since its inception in 1939. Though activities were dropped during the war, they were revived in 1951 under the supervision of the senior club and Don Ellis, local game warden, and Arthur Lloyd-Jones.

MAIN OBJECTIVE

The objectives of this club include the proper handling and care of firearms; careful and courteous conduct in hunting and fishing; protection of forests, and in general, the observance of game and fish laws and due respect for the property of others.

The club has been active in the planting of wild rice, deep water duck potatoes, rush root and sago pond weed in nearby sloughs and in Mill Creek for the benefit of waterfowl and fish life; in making trips to spawning grounds and destroying millions of predators, as well as destroying predatory animals and birds, and in assisting the senior club in making a pleasant count for the game department.

Kamloops man heads interior marketing board

R. Stockton, Kamloops, was chosen to head the Interior Vegetable Marketing Board for the ensuing year, with M. Marshall, Kelowna, as vice-chairman. Third member of the board is C. Laughlin, Keremeos, and E. Poole, Kelowna, is secretary.

Twenty-one delegates, representing every district in the area served by the board, attended the annual meeting held in Kelowna last Friday. Tom Wilkinson, whose term as chairman expired this year, refused to stand again and F. W. Hieck, of Oliver, resigned from the executive.

Mr. Stockton will serve a three-year term and Mr. Laughlin a two-year term.
B.C. Marketing Commissioner, M. M. Gilchrist, and C. Walls, secretary of the B.C. agriculture department, also attended the meeting.

Ex-serviceman killed when ditch collapses at Bankhead

J. R. (Jack) Robertson took keen interest in young athletes

A forty-year-old airforce veteran sacrificed his life in order that Athletes of Tomorrow would have a better opportunity to develop themselves.

J. R. (Jack) Robertson died within a few minutes Sunday afternoon after a ditch caved in, burying him in several feet of sandy soil. Tragedy occurred a few hundred yards from his home where Mr. Robertson and a group of volunteer workers were completing a drainage ditch at a park being developed at the VLA subdivision.

Coach of the Midget Packers which last year won the B.C. championship, Jack was an outstanding community worker, and spearheaded the drive to develop the Bankhead park. He was an assistant superintendent at the S. M. Simpson Ltd. mill.

Jack was one of four men working at the bottom of the ditch when the bank caved in. Three of the men jumped clear, but Robertson was pinned under the sandy soil. It was only a matter of minutes before his companions freed his head so that he would not suffocate. They later dug the soil away from his body. Artificial respiration was applied, but he failed to respond. It was at first thought that he died as a result of an internal hemorrhage.

Development of the park on the VLA property was one of the main objectives of the veterans who purchased small holdings at Bankhead. Jack was one of the prime instigators of the scheme, and more or less supervised operations. The drainage ditch was about ten feet deep, and darkness was rapidly approaching as they neared laying the last two tiles. Lights of a nearby tractor were turned on so that the men could see what they were doing. The side of the ditch collapsed without warning. The ditch was about 14 feet wide at the top.

The ex-serviceman raised about $400 last year so that a tractor could be hired to fill in a slough in the centre of the VLA subdivision. The volunteers would work Sundays and Wednesday afternoons, and Robertson took a keen interest in the project.

Besides his wife, Phyllis, he is survived by four children, Phyllis, Judy, Jimmie and Linda; his mother at Lac La Hache, and a brother, T. A. Robertson at Langley Prairie. His mother and brother are enroute to Kelowna to attend the funeral.

The Kelowna branch of the Canadian Legion is starting a drive to assist the family. A general meeting of Legion members will be held Tuesday night at which time the matter will be discussed.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of Day's Funeral Service and will be announced later.

Santa's reindeer literally "take off"

Santa's reindeer literally "took off" over the roof of the City Hall Friday night.

Gale-force winds tore off two pair of reindeer, but the "reins" fortunately stopped them from going very far.

Old St. Nick did not budge from his comfortable seat in the sleigh. City engineering department employees have since made the necessary repairs. The Christmas display is one of the most attractive ever seen in the interior.

Gaily colored, the model is 10 feet high and 60 feet long. It shows Santa sitting in his sleigh with the eight reindeer ascending into flight. The model is floodlit at night with colored lights. Two 31-foot Christmas trees with lights have been placed in the business section. One at the civic centre and the other at the entrance to the City Park. Christmas wreaths have also been placed on all light standards on Bernard Avenue.

Two poles topple

Gale-force winds Friday night caused two electric light poles to snap at the base. Although electrical service was not disrupted, city crews had to replace two poles on Ellis Street near Roanoke Avenue.

Trumpeter swans visit sanctuary

Ten Trumpeter swans arrived here Sunday and took refuge at the bird sanctuary in the vicinity of Abbott and Christleton Avenue.

Trumpeters are almost extinct. With the exception of last year, they pay an annual visit to the bird sanctuary enroute from their northern breeding grounds. They sometimes drop in during the spring.

According to Mrs. O. V. M. Roxby, the birds are much later this year, as they generally arrive around October. Mrs. Roxby keeps a close check on the birds at the request of the B.C. game department.

Hundreds of ducks and geese have also taken refuge at the bird sanctuary this year.

Juvenile driver strikes light pole on Bernard

A juvenile will be charged in city police court this week with driving without due care and attention after he sheered off a light standard in the centre of Bernard Avenue Friday night.

Accompanied by two other youths, police report the youth backed his car out from the curb in front of the Milky Way, striking the base of the light pole.

According to City Engineer George Meckling, a complete light standard is worth $500. The juvenile will probably be assessed a portion of this amount.

Police impounded the vehicle when the driver admitted he did not carry insurance.

Little girl fractures jaw while playing

Nancy Lee Grady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Grady, 575 Central Avenue, is in Kelowna General Hospital suffering from a fractured jaw sustained Saturday afternoon while playing on Knox Mountain. Nancy hopes to be home in time to celebrate her fourth birthday on December 22, but falling that, her doctor holds out promise that she will be at home for Christmas.

Vic Gregory elected school trustee while Stewart and Haddad chosen at Glenmore

Ratepayers in Glenmore and Kelowna last week went to the polls to complete their slate of civic officials for the year. On Thursday, in the only voting in Kelowna, Vic Gregory was chosen to fill the vacancy on the school board, defeating G. C. Hume who had been chairman of the board of School District No. 23 for several years.

In Glenmore on Saturday, the ratepayers gave their approval to W. Stewart and Vic Haddad as councillors and to H. T. Elford as school trustee. They also passed the proposed $1,200 school building alteration program by a thumping yes vote of 144 to 32.

This bylaw provides for funds to put a new entrance on the school which will make it possible for school facilities to be used for other community purposes without disturbing the actual school setup.

The vote for the two council seats in Glenmore was: W. Stewart, 127; V. Haddad, 114; A. B. Postle, 90. The school trustee vote was H. T. Elford, 105; G. F. Pearcey, 73.

It was one of the lightest Kelowna votes in recent years. Only 638 people out of a total of 3,297 eligible voters turned out to the polls—or 19.3 per cent.

Mr. Gregory received 331 votes while Mr. Hume got 303. There were four rejected ballots. Up to noon on Thursday, only 100 people had cast ballots. Balloting picked up over the lunch hour, but during the mid-afternoon, only the odd few trickled in. Biggest rush came around five o'clock and before the hockey game which started at 8:00 o'clock.

LITTLE INTEREST
Reason little interest was shown was no doubt due to the fact that Mayor J. F. Ladd and the three retiring aldermen, Dick Parkinson, Jack Trendgold and Bob Knox were re-elected by acclamation.

Defeat of Mr. Hume will terminate over 25 years of service on the school board. A former reeve of Glenmore, Mr. Hume also represented that municipality on the school board before running as local school trustee. With the exception of one year (1949) he has been chairman of the board of trustees of Kelowna School District No. 23, since 1947.

Mr. Hume has witnessed the unprecedented growth in school population in this district, and under his guiding hand, many new build-

FASCINATING EXPERIENCE

Kelowna girl thinks there are far more advantages if a person toured European continent alone

Have you finally saved up for that long-desired trip to Europe? If you have, then don't wait for that friend to make the trip with you. There are far more advantages to touring the continent alone, according to Miss Barbara Adams, who recently returned home after twice traveling over Europe.

"When you see Europe yourself," she stated, "you make the effort to make new friends, and make yourself understood in a strange language. In this way, you learn to go anywhere in the world, handle the money and speak the language enough to make simple conversation, and make new and lasting friends."

Also, Barbara is a firm believer that "hostelling" is one of the best ways to thoroughly enjoy a trip. "It is so much more economical and you can stay at little known places, or quaint villages. Also by stopping at the different hostels, you talk and live with people from every corner of the globe."

From June to November of 1952, she toured the continent the conventional way, staying at hotels or inns. In this way she covered Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, land, Austria, Germany, Italy, France and Holland.

RETURNED TO LONDON

Then she returned to London, where she worked through the winter months as medical social worker in a hospital in London in one of the poorer districts. Here, she saw first hand the effect of poor housing and living conditions of people. In many cases inadequate housing (two or three lived in one room) was the direct cause of sickness.

However, Miss Adams is enthusiastic in her praise of the national health program in Britain with its free hospitalization, and free medical services such as dentures and any prostheses that is medically recommended.

While working in London, she spent many week-ends visiting places in and around the huge city.

SPRING FLOWERS

On Sundays she hiked along the country roads of Sussex, Surrey and Kent. In these walks she saw many of the unforgettable spring flowers that England is famous for such as banks of daffodils, fields of primroses and masses of blue-bells. The blue-bells reminded her of the breathtaking beauty of the blue-bells or camas covering the hills in Victoria's Beacon Hill.

The winter over, she resolved to see for herself if the glowing reports she had heard of hostelling were true. She set out and traveled this way through England and Scotland in May and June. Here, she visited the Castle Tintagel, the legendary home of King Arthur. In her wanderings on foot, by bus and by train, she covered points in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Belgium, and Italy.

In Switzerland she came across an unusual village which she considers a highlight of her trip. It is an international village of children, called Pestalozzi Dorf. Primarily established for war orphans, it has now been expanded to include the needy. It is composed of separate houses for each nationality where a home background and education in their own tongue is provided. It is supported by donations. The children keep a contact with their homeland, and almost all return eventually to their native land. Part of the building containing the gym was built with Canadian funds. Many people believe that the idea incorporated here could contribute to international understanding.

ART CENTRES

She found the Republic of San Marino in Italy a fascinating place. Built in 600 A.D., it has retained its medieval atmosphere. It is built on the summit of Mount Titano, where three castles overlook the Adriatic Sea. Dalmatian Art centres such as Siena, Florence, and Venice, were interesting.

ROMANTIC EXPERIENCE

Her most romantic experience, was to her mind, the famed canals of Venice. Here, picturesque old buildings lined the canal, and boats and barges floating down in a busy stream. Unfortunately, a smell when the tide is low, deters some people from making the trip to see them, but this is only temporary. Many old buildings of Venice are crumbling, but the work of reinforcing them also goes ahead.

Barbara feels a trip of this sort can change a person's outlook on life.

"You develop an inquiring mind about your own city and country. That is, you become more aware of the industries, cultural and historic attractions in your own locality. Thus, a tourist often knows more about Kelowna than one brought up here."

Almost every scenic beauty she saw in Europe can be paralleled by one in B.C., she believes. B.C.'s natural beauty is second or inferior to none.

For example, the fjords of Norway reminded her of the fjords in B.C., such as Jervis Inlet.

Lastly, by meeting those of other countries, and more or less representing your own country, one can, without meaning to, further the cause of international peace. It is difficult to think of being at a state of war with a nation, when you have lived with them and become their friends. War seems so remote, when one chats at a sidewalk cafe with a hospitable Austrian.

Wedding of wide interest

A wedding of wide interest took place on December 5 when Alice Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Tuovila, Ellison, exchanged vows with Constable A. Willms, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Willms, New Westminster.

Rev. E. K. H. Kroeger officiated at the ceremony at Christ Lutheran Church.

School for mentally handicapped children will be assisted by Dr. Knox IODE chapter

At a meeting of the Dr. Knox Chapter, I.O.D.E., under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold Johnston, and held at the home of Mrs. F. K. Parker, Beach Avenue, a list of items which would be required for the school for mentally handicapped children was read, and a meeting decided to purchase all of these items possible up to a set amount.

Two Christmas boxes were packed, containing gifts for each of the children in the two schools adopted by the Chapter, viz. the Black Mountain School and a school on Texada Island.

Following the business session, some very interesting films were shown, two of which explained the work done by UNESCO, which were prefaced with a most interesting introduction and explanations by Mrs. T. P. McWilliams. Mrs. Bob Parker, Beach Avenue, a list of items which would be required for the school for mentally handicapped children was read, and a meeting decided to purchase all of these items possible up to a set amount.

The next meeting of the Dr. Knox Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Gordon, Elliott Ave., on Tuesday, January 12.

Over two hundred students will take part in the Kelowna Junior High School concert, to be held Tuesday (tomorrow) and Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Fifty pupils will appear in the school choir and the school band of 70 pupils will play Christmas music.

hold successful tea and bazaar

A very successful tea and bazaar was held by the Order of the Eastern Star on Wednesday at the Willow Inn.

A budgie bird was won by Mrs. L. Walkley; a crib quilt by Mrs. W. J. Mervyn, and a box of apples by George Russell.

Stalls of home cooking, knitted goods, novelties, and sale of candy were well patronized.

Decorated in Christmas motif, the Willow Inn was a pleasing background for the tea tables, each with its Christmas centerpiece. Mrs. R. McCuaig was tea convener.

The greatest on earth

The biggest aspidochron in the world is undoubtedly somewhere, but no one knows where. Obviously there must be one which is bigger than its fellows, just as in everything else. The largest living thing in the world is a tree. For many years different countries claimed this record and, eventually, a group of forestry engineers in the U.S. contacted their opposites in Australia, Canada, Europe, Africa and Asia, hoping that, between them, they could arrive at a solution.

The search was narrowed down to one California Redwood growing in the Sequoia National Park, and over a thousand calculations were made before the engineers were satisfied that it was the largest tree in the world and, therefore, the largest living thing. It has a circumference of 88 feet and a height of 272 feet. There is enough wood to make 30,000,000 matches or fifty wooden houses of five rooms each.

The largest flowers in the world apart from orchids—do not grow in the steaming jungles of the Amazon or of Africa, but in the British colony of Seychelles Islands. Domestic flowers grow to tremendous sizes. Pansies, for instance, can be found measuring four feet, while dwarf rose bushes grow to a height of six feet.

To say that China, with a population of 500,000,000, is the biggest nation in the world, means very little until it is compared with other countries. The total population of Australia and New Zealand combined does not yet add up to 12,000,000, while the average birth-rate in China is 30,000,000 a year.

Farms seem to be all sizes yet, obviously, somewhere there must be one which is bigger than all the others. There is the record for size goes to a farm in Northern Caucasus, in a province called Trubetskaya, with a total area of 610,337 acres.

The palm for the deepest coal mine in the world goes to a British-owned one in Brazil, where miners work at the uncomfortable level of 6,420 feet below ground.

Most Canadians are prone to think that, because the U.S. is the land of skyscrapers, the records of most man-made constructions are held in that country. It is not true, for Britain holds quite a number of records. For instance, the biggest railway station in the world is Waterloo, with a total area of 24½ acres; but Waterloo does not have the longest platform in the world. This is in a place called Sonapur, in India, and is 805 yards long.

The biggest city in the world is, of course, London, but few Canadians know that the busiest railway junction in the world is Clapham, controlling more than 200 trains every day.

Britain, too, can boast the largest library in the world, for there are 4,000,000 volumes in the British Museum. The largest island in the world is Australia and the largest figure of Buddha in Ceylon.

When it comes to tombs, the U.S. holds the record with the famous Wrigley tomb on Catalina Island. William Wrigley was the man who made a fortune out of chewing gum. The tomb can even compete with the Taj Mahal as the most costly.

For Wrigley refused an offer for the site of his tomb which was fifty percent higher than the total construction cost of the Taj Mahal. And, in addition, while the tomb's foundations were being dug, mineral deposits were discovered which would have netted Wrigley a very tidy profit, but, because he had set his heart on that particular spot he refused all offers.

There is such a thing as the most luxurious tomb in the world. It belongs to Zaki Okasha, an Egyptian, and contains a suite of rooms, two bathrooms, a telephone, an electric generating plant and above all, a refrigerator!

In spite of Zaki and Wrigley, the most beautiful tomb in the world is the Taj Mahal.

When it comes to theatres, the record goes to Buenos Aires. Not only has it the biggest theatre in the world, but in three hours it can be converted into a race track or a bull ring.

Fourteen hundred miles of uninterrupted wall gives China the record for the longest wall in the world.

The tallest building in the world, of course, is the Empire State Building in New York—1,248 feet high. The biggest park is Yellowstone, 3,350 square miles. The hottest place in the world is Death Valley, California, with 134 degrees Fahrenheit. People live in the coldest place in the world, a town called Oymyakon in Siberia. There is still one more record

Little girl recovering from rheumatic fever

WILSON LANDING—Little Ada Kockshorn is in hospital at Vernon recovering from an attack of rheumatic fever. In order to be near her daughter Mrs. Kockshorn is staying with friends in Vernon, and as soon as Ada is well enough to travel, both mother and daughter will join Mr. Jack Kockshorn in Nanaimo, where they make their home. Their many friends here extend best wishes to the family for their future success.

Mr. R. G. Birch is receiving congratulations on his promotion, in which all of his friends wish him every success. Vancouver is a long way from the Okanagan American camp where he has so ably filled the position of secretary-treasurer since its inauguration.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Birch have made many friends during their stay here, where they have interested themselves in a number of new developments. Their presence in the community will be greatly missed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Deighton returned home last Monday following a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Deighton at Oliver. They were also among the west-siders who enjoyed the recent Sunday evening concert in Kelowna.

Many hunters were out after "bucks" at the close of the hunting season, but without success. The herds of deer are still far back in the hills on account of the very mild weather.

Mr. C. B. Weeks has taken up his winter quarters at Mr. Rolf Webb's place (the old James property).

BRIDGEWATER, N.S.—Vernon Wile believes in being close to his work. He has raised the roof of his 100-year-old carding mill and made the upper section into an apartment. A waterwheel provides power for carding the wool, gathered from Lunenburg county sheep to be spun into yarn.

New UBCM position awarded to former mayor of Vernon

Theo R. B. Adams, mayor of Vernon from 1948 to 1951, has been appointed executive director of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Mr. Adams was one of 19 men who applied for the post, and was selected by a special executive meeting of the UBCM held in Vancouver. He is well known in Kelowna, being chosen Conservative candidate in the Federal election in 1949.

Mr. Adams will take over his new post on January 1. He will be the first full-time director in the 50-year history of the municipal organization. His wife and four children will remain in Vernon for the time being, until Mr. Adams can find suitable accommodation for them.

While his office will be located at first in New Westminster's new city hall, it is not certain as to whether the royal city will be the permanent headquarters of the UBCM.

Born in England, son of Most Rev. W. R. Adams, Anglican Archbishop of Yukon, and Mrs. Adams, now residents of this city, Mr. Adams was educated at Kamloops, at English public schools, and at Trinity College, Toronto.

His officer commanding of the B.C. Dragoons headquarters squadron, served in the Canadian Army during World War Two, being discharged with the rank of captain. He is a former secretary of Vernon branch, Canadian Legion, and later has been branch manager of Okanagan Investments Ltd., also in Vernon.

He served one year as alderman prior to his election as Vernon's chief magistrate, when he was Canada's youngest mayor.

At the annual meeting of local ratepayers last week, Alderman George Melvin congratulated Mr. Adams on behalf of the City Council and the community, adding that his appointment was a reflection of the excellent administration Vernon had enjoyed when he was mayor, and also a compliment to the city itself. Ald. Melvin wished him every success in his new post. At the invitation of meeting chairman, ex-mayor David Howie, Sr., Mr. Adams acknowledged the tribute.

Vernon seeks new city hall but mayor says post office site too valuable a corner

VERNON—The question of a new City Hall for Vernon received a thorough going over during the annual civic meeting in the City Hall, with Mayor A. C. Wilde saying he thought the present post office site too valuable a corner from a tax income viewpoint to be utilized as a city hall, and City Engineer P. G. deWolf forcefully reminding the citizens of "the unsatisfactory state of the temporary City Hall" and "extremely cramped quarters" which made his job the more difficult.

During his annual report, Mayor Wilde said that he had no final decision was made, the taxpayers should be asked their wishes—presumably by form of plebiscite.

"The question of acquiring the present post office for City Hall purposes, or the construction of a new building to house all city departments," he said, "is one that will require much thought and attention."

EXPENSIVE PROPOSITION
The present post office building, about which much has been said and written—and this not all based on fact—may prove an expensive proposition, I have been in communication with several federal government departments since 1952 and no definite statement has been communicated to me as to a price or date when the present building will be made available to the city, we consider it as a favorable location.

"I have been advised that if, as and when the present post office is declared surplus by the department of public works of Canada, the City of Vernon will have first refusal to purchase—which could easily be in three or four years' time, or even longer."

VALUABLE CORNER
"Personally, I think this site is too valuable a corner from a tax income viewpoint to use as a City Hall site. It is possibly our busiest corner, parking facilities are poor, more especially if library, museum and board of trade offices are located in the same building."

"However, before any final decision is made, the taxpayers should have the final say, with an alternative proposition of new site and new buildings as well."

During his report as former alderman and chairman of the board of works, D. D. Harris said he thought MacDonald Park should have been utilized as a civic centre site, containing City Hall and other departments. It was the geographical centre of the city, he said, and the logical place for such a centre.

"But unfortunately, we got high-pressed out of that by the school board," he said.

During the course of his report, finance chairman Ald. R. W. Ley said the City Hall staff was "working under crowded conditions and the sooner our new City Hall is a reality, the better."

"It is, to say the least, rather difficult to transact the all-important business of our growing city under present conditions," he concluded.

Paperboard fruit containers may soon be in general use

Corrugated paperboard may some day replace wood as a container for millions of apples and other fresh fruits, says Bill Fletcher, business editor of the Vancouver Sun.

That day may be sooner than Mr. Fletcher realizes. Because the 1954 BCFGA convention, scheduled for Penticton next month, will deal with a resolution urging immediate adoption of the use of cardboard containers for the fruit pack. The resolution, adopted at a recent meeting of Penticton local BCFGA, referred to the high cost of wooden containers.

Mr. Fletcher's article goes on to say that Canadian Boxes, Ltd., of Vancouver, experimented with the paper board boxes last year to learn if the containers would stand up, how they would react under storage.

This year, the plant turned out 750,000 boxes for the Okanagan fruit crop.

MANY ADVANTAGES
The new container appears to have several advantages over the wooden box; it is cheaper to produce, lighter in weight, can take the bumps of transportation; is unaffected by cold storage and lends itself to operations in the Okanagan.

Another advantage is that it can be "dressed up," a big help in today's highly competitive packaging market.

There are three classes of the new container: Tray-Pak, a regular slotted container having an inside liner and utilizing pressed pulp

Crown withdraws second charge against man

PENTICTON—The Crown has withdrawn a second charge against F. H. Armitage, of Calgary, and preliminary hearing on the charge, involving an alleged false prospectus, has been abandoned.

Meanwhile, Armitage will not appeal sentence of one year on conviction of false pretences and has been transferred from Penticton to Oakalla, where he will serve his term.

Preliminary hearing on the second charge got underway the day following completion of the false pretences trial, held here in November, and was adjourned twice before the Crown decided on withdrawal.

The case drew wide interest here as it involved investment in a company known as Hansard Spruce Mills, Ltd. The company later went bankrupt.

J. L. Murray, of Kelowna, charged jointly with Armitage, was acquitted.

Packers win three straight

Phil Hergesheimer and Jim Middleton join exclusive "hat trick" circle in two games against Kamloops Elks

By "The Beaver"

Generalissimo Phil Hergesheimer is about to get his Christmas wish. A winning hockey team.

Thursday night he released the brakes of the Victory Special and with the assistance of teammates, turned the switch which sent his Packers rolling along the main line after temporarily being stalled by lack of steam.

And it was the old general himself, along with Jim Middleton who shovelled most of the coal into the firebox which gave the Kelowna crew the necessary spark to win three straight games and bring them within one point of the third-placed Kamloops Elks. After eking out a 2-1 victory over Spokane Thursday night, Packers belted the Elks 9-4 Friday night and then repeated the performance Saturday night by a 4-2 count.

With the definite assurance of assistance arriving this week, Packers looked like a different team to the 1,400-odd fans who witnessed the well-earned victory Saturday night. With Seth Martin playing a sensational game in goal and Jim Middleton inspiring his teammates by joining the exclusive "hat trick" circle, the Packers had every reason to celebrate after the game. The worried lines under General Phil's eyes even disappeared.

"Just give me two more forwards and we'll be on Penitence's

Paul Brilliant opened the scoring for Kelowna in the first period following a pass from Jack Kirk, who made his first appearance after a three-game suspension. Henderson evened it up for Kamloops on a pass from Bud Evans at the 18:30 mark. Six seconds later Kirk was penalized for interference, but Packers held on. The Elks controlled most of the play in the first stanza and outshot Packers 16-8.

PACKERS MOVE AHEAD
Jim Middleton put Packers ahead, scoring a beautiful goal on an assist from Hanson. A minute later Hanson got an unpopular penalty from referee George Cullen for high sticking. It was at this point that Bernie Bathgate made his first appearance on the ice, but coach Ulliot used him for only a few minutes. The Elks' gangling attacks proved fruitless as Martin kicked out the rubber from all angles. Shots on goal were Kamloops 12, Kelowna nine.

It was the third period when most of the action took place. With lanky Jim Middleton playing his best game of the season, Packers swarmed around the Kamloops net. Middleton set the light ablazing at 5:15 and five minutes later he rumped in another goal. Hoskins and Amundrud got assists on the two goals.

Coach Ken Ulliot wound up the scoring at 11:55 on a pass from Fleming and Millard. Kelowna outshot Kamloops 9-8, in the third stanza, but on the overall score, Kamloops outshot Kelowna 36-28.

ICE CHIPS... PAUL BRILLANT is starting to find his mark. In addition to turning in a good performance at the game in KAM-LOOPS Friday night, BRILLANT played BRILLIANTLY Saturday. He showed more finish around the net. HERGESHEIMER, who seldom stands up in the box while coaching, was on his feet most of the night and kept a watchful eye on the play... JIM HANSON, DON JOHNSON and BO CARLSON played their usual steady game... Coffee row has it that HERGESHEIMER has been offered a two-for-one and a three-for-one trade for Hanson by both Kamloops and Vernon. But it's a safe bet JIM will not be leaving the Orchard City. He recently purchased an orchard because he doesn't want to drive an old truck the rest of his life. JIM MIDDLETON has shown vast improvement in recent games. In fact he's been mainly responsible for giving the Packers that extra spark.

SUMMARY
First period—Kelowna, Brilliant (Kirk) 10:11; 2, Kamloops, Henderson (Evans) 18:30. Penalties—Creighton, Kirk, Cullen.
Second period—Kelowna, Middleton (Hanson) 4:03. Penalties—Millard, Hanson, Pyevach, Hanson.
Third period—Kelowna, Middleton (Hoskins) 5:13; 5, Kelowna, Middleton (Amundrud) 9:14; 6, Kamloops, Ulliot (Fleming, Millard) 11:55.

LINEUPS
Kelowna—Seth Martin, Don Johnston, Kirk, Bo Carlson, Hanson, Cullen, Hergesheimer, Amundrud, Brilliant, Durban, Connors, Middleton, Hoskins.

Kamloops—Hal Gordon, Pyevach, Slater, Taggart, Creighton, Millard, Bathgate, Clovechok, Evans, Fleming, Henderson, Hryciuk, Gunnar Carlson, Booth.

tail in no time at all," remarked Hergy. And he's about to get his wish. Dame Rumor has it that a "Mr. X," one of the best forwards in senior hockey, is about to join the team.

Name of "Mr. X" will not be released until after he affixes his signature to a contract.

"Mr. X" who formerly played for Kerrisdale, Spokane and New Westminster, joined Sarnia at the start of this season. The Sarnia team folded up last Thursday due to financial troubles, and Hergy lost little time in contacting "Mr. X" and any other players who might be on the market in the Ontario Senior A loop.

With this promised assistance, Hergesheimer is confident Packers will be able to get back into their winning ways. Seth Martin has also contributed a great deal to the Packers' cause, and Dame Rumor also has it that Hergy would like to see him as Kelowna's regular goalie. Martin, an alternate netminder for Trail Smoke Eaters, is the property of New York Rangers.

There's also gossip to the effect that Bernie Bathgate and Andy Clovechok will shortly be pulling out of Kamloops to take up permanent residence in Kelowna.

This rumor seems to be somewhat confirmed in view of the fact that Coach Ken Ulliot used Bathgate for only a few minutes in the second period Saturday night.

PHIL HERGESHEIMER

JIM MIDDLETON

Who turned in stellar performances in the last two games against Kamloops. Coach Hergy scored a hat trick at Kamloops Friday night and Middleton duplicated the feat at the Kelowna and District Memorial Arena Saturday night. Saturday's game marked the third straight victory for Packers.

Kelowna 2, Spokane 1

Phil Hergesheimer's fighting band of Kelowna Packers had their first taste of victory in two weeks when they turned back Spokane Flyers 2-1 here Thursday night. It marked the first win in the last five starts for the cellar-placed Kelowna team, and also sent the Americans home without a victory in their invasion of the Okanagan's hockey circuit. Flyers also dropped games to Penitence and Vernon, but settled for a tie with Kamloops.

Seth Martin, alternate goalie with Trail Smoke Eaters, who is filling in for injured Al Laface, played an outstanding game, and blocked several shots that were tagged for the net. He received a big ovation from the "hockey faithfuls" when he left the ice.

It was a wide-open game with PACKERS, is guarding the net for both teams waiting for the breaks the SMOKIES.

News 'n views on local girls' cage front

By LINDA GHEZZI

Contrary to reports the girls' basketball team is working well, and to date have won six out of nine games. Last year at this time they had won only two games out of nine.

The team is composed of six of last year's players. Sandra Lipsitt, guard; Mary MacKenzie, forward; Mary Anne Kane, forward; Nancy Drake, guard; Val Walker, guard; and Linda Ghezzi, centre; and the new members are Thelma Gagnon, forward; Marie dePuyffer, forward; Velma Hogarth, centre; Aileen Ruth, forward; and Pat Cummings, spare and manager. The girls are coached by Miss Leask, Physical Education instructor at the Senior High School.

So far, only Kamloops and Vernon have beaten the Owlettes. The Kamloops Red Angels trounced the locals twice to the tune of 35-23 and 44-28 but these scores are a definite improvement over last year's against the Red Angels when Kelowna was beaten 39-16 in the cage opener and 50-19 in the final game of the season, versus Kamloops. We hope that they will end up on the winning side now that they have started off better.

The Owlettes have defeated the city's Gee Whizzers in both encounters against them to date; once in a practice game with the score of 27-19, and once in exhibition on November 20 by one point in a close game, with the final score being 18-17. Last year the Owlettes played the city team 10 times, losing six, winning three and tying one. They're certainly out to better that record this year.

On Friday night the Owlettes met their third defeat in a tough game against Vernon. The girls lost the game by fouls, 17 to be exact, while the northerners had only five fouls called against them. The Owlettes are not a rough team and it seems odd that so many fouls were handed out to them. Could it be that the referee needs glasses? Or, were those calls and neglected fouls all fair deals? Many of the fans didn't seem to think so! Kelowna's pointgetters were: Ghezzi 12, Hogarth 5, Lipsitt 2, MacKenzie 2, and Drake 2.

Let's keep basketball alive in Kelowna by taking an interest in it and attending the games.

It's Kelowna vs. Vernon in the OVMHL tomorrow night in Memorial Arena. On their last appearance here, Kelowna Juvenile All-Stars edged the Vernon club 4-3, while the Midget Packers squeaked by with a 6-5 victory, showing how evenly matched the respective teams are.

Midget game gets underway at 7:30 p.m. Juveniles tangle an hour later. Juveniles lost their first game in five starts this season at Penitence Saturday night, a close 2-1 decision. Midget Packers smacked Penitence 12-2 here last week and are confident they can take Vernon.

Vernon within one point of Pentiction
(Special to The Courier)

VERNON — It was turnabout in the tight race for OSHL leadership here Saturday night as Vernon Canadians outplayed the league-leading Pentiction V's all the way for a decisive 7-3 win that closed the gap between the two clubs to one point.

A capacity crowd of 2,800 had lots to cheer about as the home team rolled up a lead before V's could dent their defences midway through the final period for goals by George McAvoy and Doug Kilburn.

Canadians got those back and were coasting home with an easy 7-2 margin, identical with the trouncing the V's handed them the night before, when Don Berry clicked for the final Pentiction goal with but four seconds remaining.

Bing Jukes led the winners with a pair while Dave MacKay, Bob Ballance, Jack Miller, Don McLeod and Art Davison scored the others.

It was a quiet night in the penalty timekeepers den, as Bill Neilson assessed just three minors to each club. The alert Canadians, however, turned every Pentiction penalty into the scoring column.

The sluggish V's appeared unable to untrack until too late and the Warwick line lacked its usual fire and dash. The return of George Agar, from the recent injury, played the game from the bench and Leo Lucchini was still missing from the Vernon lineup.

First period — 1, Pentiction, G. Warwick (D. Warwick, B. Warwick, 11:52); 2, Pentiction, Fairburn (Rucks) 14:04. Penalties — McAvoy, McDonald, McKay.

Second period — 3, Pentiction, Fairburn (McDonald) 5:21; 4, Pentiction, G. Warwick (D. Warwick, D. Warwick) 5:30; 5, Pentiction, McIntyre (McAvoy, Rucks) 6:58; 6, Vernon, Butler (Steyck) 10:53. Penalties — Jakes, G. Warwick, Harms.

Third period — 7, Vernon, Davison (unassisted) 5:08; 8, Pentiction, Fairburn (McDonald) 14:15; 9, Pentiction, Fairburn (McDonald) 19:54. Penalties — Jukes.

Kelowna B.A. Oilers gained a 72-35 victory over Princeton in a Senior B league game at Princeton Saturday night. Gee scored 19 points and Butcher, 16. Hank Tostenson was third with nine points, getting three quick breakaways at commencement of the second quarter.

Princeton failed to show the class they had previously displayed in Kelowna and were without one of their key men.

Pentiction hands Vernon Canucks 7-2 drubbing

PENTICTON — Grant Warwick's V's handed Vernon's ruptured Canadians, a 7-2 drubbing here Friday. Bursts of brilliant hockey gave the V's a 2-0 lead as the first stanza closed and in the sandwich session the Warwickmen blasted three fast goals before half time with a single reply from Canadians. Vernon blinked the red light early in the final frame and Pentiction rounded off the count as the game moved into the final minutes with a brace of markers and for a comfortable 7-2 victory.

Johnny Sotik, wearing strange skates after breaking a blade just before game time, had enough rubber thrown at him to make a couple of six-ply tires as V's outshot the visitors 40 to 21. The Vernon custodian came up with a string of de-luxe saves and more than one horseshoe as V's missed some big chances.

Jim Fairburn led the Pentiction marksmen with four points, completing a hat trick at 19:54 of the third period. Grant Warwick potted a brace and singletons went to Jack McIntyre and Ernie Rucks, plus two assists for Rucks. Jack McDonald tallied three helpers with a pair each for Dick and Bill Warwick. George McAvoy and Kev Conway had single assists.

Duck Butler, on a play with Tom Steyck broke the Vernon goose egg at the halfway mark of the second and hard driving Art Davison backhanded the second Canadian marker home unassisted in the early minutes of the third period.

The fixture built up to some rough spots but referee George Cullen saw only three minor infractions for V's.

George Agar, with face swollen from a recent injury, played the game from the bench and Leo Lucchini was still missing from the Vernon lineup.

First period — 1, Pentiction, G. Warwick (D. Warwick, B. Warwick, 11:52); 2, Pentiction, Fairburn (Rucks) 14:04. Penalties — McAvoy, McDonald, McKay.

Second period — 3, Pentiction, Fairburn (McDonald) 5:21; 4, Pentiction, G. Warwick (D. Warwick, D. Warwick) 5:30; 5, Pentiction, McIntyre (McAvoy, Rucks) 6:58; 6, Vernon, Butler (Steyck) 10:53. Penalties — Jakes, G. Warwick, Harms.

Third period — 7, Vernon, Davison (unassisted) 5:08; 8, Pentiction, Fairburn (McDonald) 14:15; 9, Pentiction, Fairburn (McDonald) 19:54. Penalties — Jukes.

Korean clothing drive response encouraging

Kelowna residents have responded wholeheartedly to the appeal for clothing for the South Korean Relief Committee, with 3,710 pounds of clothing collected.

This was revealed at a packing bee held by the Local Council of Women, when volunteers worked for eight hours at the task of sorting, packing and crating the goods to be sent to Seattle. On its arrival there the Society of Friends (Quakers) will reprocess and re-pack the clothing at a cost of $100.

Cost of shipping the garments was $72.40, and with only $84.00 on hand the Local Council is appealing to residents to make up the balance. Donations may be left with Mrs. M. Foulkes at the library.

Local coach "pulls" team at Penticton

Jack O'Reilly, coach of the Kelowna Junior All-Stars, took his team off the ice at the half-way mark in a game at Penticton Saturday night. Penticton was leading 2-1 at the time but had yet to defeat Kelowna in any OVMHL game thus far this season, in regulation time.

Referring to the affair as an "unpleasant incident, doing little to cement relationships between Kelowna and Penticton," a Penticton spokesman has accused Travis, a Kelowna player of "pulling a Jack Kirk and taking a cut at a player on the ice."

Coach O'Reilly states that the Penticton player hit Travis first, that the southern team, bigger and heavier, started the rough stuff.

"I go down there to play hockey, not to see someone injured or killed," he added, "and I don't intend going back until the situation changes."

Kelowna drew the first four penalties, Penticton none. Lloyd Gilmour was the referee. O'Reilly stated that Gilmour failed to give the man who first swung at Travis a two-minute minor, although it showed in the records later as having been done. However, Kelowna had a player in the penalty box at the time and he said the referee gave no instructions regarding such a penalty.

After retiring to the dressing room, no one came to discuss the issue, he said. Talk of suspending coach O'Reilly for a year was voiced by southern supporters.

Referring to the incident in unprintable terms, O'Reilly said that the Penticton club had lost three games to the lighter, cleverer Kelowna All-Stars.

"If someone is going to get hurt or killed, then I am not going to be there to see it," he said.

Men make

and probed other phases of the possible undertaking.

Inland Natural Gas, while an independent corporation, is tied in with West Coast Transmission, the organization which, seems most likely to be granted the privilege of transporting gas from the Alberta fields to the Pacific Northwest.

CITY MAPS
The investigation team secured large scale city maps and set about the arduous task of counting homes, businesses, estimating what the probable natural gas demand would be.

Inland was formed with the prime objective of, to quote Mr. Milner, "market research in British Columbia in order to obtain data to go before the board of transport commissioners in Ottawa in support of West Coast Transmission's application."

The Vancouver firm is trying to get franchises from all the interior cities for the distribution of gas within city limits.

The economics of natural gas distribution are apparently very involved, according to Mr. Milner. For instance it takes three to five years to build up a paying "load" in communities located quite near the source of fuel.

LAKE OFFERS PROBLEM

If a pipeline is built between Penticton and Kelowna, decision would have to be made as to what side of the lake it would be constructed. It is understood the lake offers one problem, but on the other hand if it was constructed on the west side of the lake, communities such as Peachland, Summerland and Westbank would also be serviced with natural gas.

Kelowna splits honors with Vernon

Cliff Serwa and Glen Dowle teamed up in the final quarter of an exciting boys "A" hoop game, played in Kelowna High gym Friday against Vernon Stars, to bring Golden Owls their first victory in three encounters.

Glen Dowle was fouled, and received two free shots, with one minute and fifty seconds left to play in the final quarter with Stars from Vernon High leading 47-45. By making both shots good, Glen evened the count at 47-47.

With one minute to play, Cliff Serwa was fouled, and he also received two free shots. The first one landed short, and the score then stood at 48-47 in Kelowna's favor. From then on it was just a matter of stalling time until the final whistle blew.

Golden Owls' average stands at five wins in nine starts. Bill McIndoe was high point collector of the game as he sparked Vernon Stars with a total of 15 points. Cliff Serwa was second high man of the game as he garnered 13 points for Golden Owls.

Five players were responsible for Vernon's baskets, whereas nine of Kelowna's players figured in the scoring.

Pacific market for Valley apples better than 1952

The substantial increase in apple shipments to trans-Pacific markets, particularly British Malaya, as reported by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., is expected to be approximately double those of 1952. Trade with the British West Indies exceeds the 1952 volume and the season's shipments to Venezuela exceeds those of last year. Shipments have been made to Indonesia, the Philippines and Ceylon, but a decline was shown to Brazil and Hong Kong.

Canadian and U.S. cold storage holdings to November 30 have not yet been issued, but Washington State shows 20,202 cars on hand this year, an increase of 3,710 over 1952. To December, Washington shipments are 900 cars less than last year.

B.C. prices have had to be adjusted in line with those in Washington State, where, in order to maintain a better weekly average, prices on apples have been reduced during the past two weeks, bringing about an increase in B.C. sales, to U.S. markets and resulting in a better movement to market.

CHRISTMAS PACK
The "Christmas Pack" B.C. Tree Fruits special pack consisting of a cardboard container in Christmas colors containing 24 apples, each packed in black shredded cellophane with a suitable Christmas liner, will exceed 7,500 packages this year.

Canadian manufacturing and commercial firms present their customers and employees with these apple packs.

PTA Delegates hold parley at Winfield

The P.-A. Council for the Central Okanagan held its third meeting this fall at the Winfield school. All P.-T.A.'s in the Central Okanagan area send representatives to this council in an attempt to co-ordinate P.-T.A. activities and to exchange ideas.

President Spencer Dyson asked the P.-T.A.'s in each school to advertise and to support the night school which the school board is offering in academic subjects. If there is sufficient enrollment by December 15, classes will commence in January in matriculation subjects for a spring night school of twenty sessions of two hours each. Registrations are now being taken at the school board office.

Walter Ratlafz reported on the P.-T.A. radio broadcasts heard every Saturday morning between 10:05 and 10:15.

MANY THANKS

To the citizens of Kelowna who supported me in last Thursday's civic election as school trustee, many thanks.

In my opinion, the people in this area owe a debt of gratitude to retiring school trustee George Hume, who has served so faithfully for so many years.

I will do the utmost to serve you to the best of my ability.
